

Goleta Valley JHS
Daily Bulletin for Wednesday March 10, 2010

- Pathways to College Club students are reminded that field trip permission slips are due today.
- Come to the Art Circle at lunch today to see which house teams build the tallest skyscraper out of paper and tape. May the best house win.
- Club Live meets tomorrow morning before late-start Thursday in the Club Live Room at 8:30. Students interested in helping with “Free for the Weekend” activities or who want to go on the upcoming Hurricane Harbor trip are advised to attend the meeting.
- Auditions for next year’s performing arts class are tomorrow. See Mrs. Ross in Room 601 for further information.
- Students and family are invited to Science Night tomorrow. The evening starts at 5:30 in the auditorium. Eighth-grade science projects will be on display in the cafeteria during the event, which wraps up at 7:00 P.M.
- The lost and found in the office is overflowing with students’ stuff. Look through it if you’re missing something, particularly a sweatshirt or jacket. Anything remaining by tomorrow afternoon will be donated to a charity.
